LEGAL PRACTICE AND EXPERIENCE

I have gained particular expertise in several areas of the law in over twenty years of practice, first as a litigator and commercial lawyer and increasingly as an ADR practitioner, including in franchise law (unintentional franchising), the wine and alcohol industry (three-tier system as relates to import and distribution, trade credit agency issues), health care law and corporate practice of medicine (fee-splitting/profit sharing prohibitions between professionals and unlicensed persons under New York State and Federal anti-kick-back statutes) and private equity investment in the education sector.

A good part of my practice has been devoted to mediating or representing parties as settlement or litigation counsel in partnership disputes involving individuals and corporate entities, multiple parties, and couples and family members in partnership disputes, or so-called business divorce. These include derivative actions for breach of fiduciary duty and self-dealing, tortious interference, breach of duty of care, alter-ego and successor liability, foreclosure negotiations and mediation with banks to prevent the forced sale of the properties or closure of commercial accounts during litigation, violation of non-compete clauses, non-payment and sales tax issues.

For several small businesses, I have acted as outside general counsel over the years. In this capacity I represent them in litigation and ADR processes, negotiate contracts and settlement agreements, draft all corporate agreements and legal documents, deal with supervisory bodies and agencies and provide general business and legal advice.

I have extensive commercial experience drafting, negotiating and reviewing import and distribution, marketing, partnership, shareholder, employment, consultancy and management, licence, lease, computer services, NDA and confidentiality agreements.

I also advise U.S., French and Australian clients and counsel on dispute prevention and management, including mediation strategy and position papers and other commercial options for defendants in protracted litigation, and negotiate settlement agreements based on DR clauses in contracts.

Other representative areas of practice

Information Technology: IT contracts with Australian, U.S. and UK parties, Representation of clients in a mediation over a complex website dispute, multiple claims for website design and IT services, violations of the Federal Computer Fraud and Abuse Act and using subpoenas and court orders to produce documents and remove defamatory postings (Yahoo, Google and GoDaddy).

Employment Law: Representation of both employees and employers in cases of wrongful termination, misclassification of employees as independent contractors, unpaid wage claims and employee-rights violations, the vesting and payment of bonuses subsequent to an international the takeover, U.S. and French employment law, and the impact of E.U. commercial agent regulations.

Professional negligence and Lawyer/Client Disputes: Mediator and Arbitrator for New York County, representation of clients in litigation and settlement negotiations in negligence matters involving unauthorized practice of law, recovery in the U.S. of attorney's fees related to an international property dispute.

Property matters: Representation of clients in multiple closings (settlements) for cooperative and condominium properties in New York State and buildings' mortgage refinances, filing of lis pendens (caveat) in property disputes, French and German litigation on failure to transfer title to properties, mediation in a family business divorce involving dozens of cascading entities, several design-build projects and properties with other owners, inter-family loans, foreclosure proceedings, and outside investor loans.

Past Business and Law-Related Work

In my past career as an international language consultant, I assisted and advised attorneys in multi-year ICC arbitrations and international litigation and worked with executives, legislators and officials from multinational corporations, EU Institutions (Commission, Council, Parliament), NATO, the French Ministries of Defense and Foreign Affairs and Finance (personal interpreter to the Director of the French Competition Law body with counterparts from the US DOJ and FTC, and UK OFT, Paris Club/IMF/World Bank debt rescheduling and Financial Action Task Force on money laundering) as well as in multifarious technical, medical and commercial negotiations, meetings and symposia.
